

SUBSTANCE ABUSE PREVENTION PROGRAM

The New Jersey State Legislature has passed the Drug Free Schools and Communities Act of 1986, Governor Kean has established the Blueprint for a Drug-Free New Jersey (1987), and Chancellor Hollander has asked the colleges of New Jersey to support the drug-free initiative of the state.

The Board of Trustees endorses the drug-free initiative and instructs the president to establish services and programs to inform students, faculty, and staff as to the disposition of substance abuse cases which may arise at the college.
